Planning and Developing a Fulfilling Career 计划和拓展一个有作为的职业生涯

You are cordially invited to Greater Philadelphia Area Career Planning Workshop 2008 on March 8, 2008 (Saturday), 8:30 am – 12:00 pm at HHG26-Hall of Flags, Houston Hall, University of Pennsylvania (3417 Spruce Street, Philadelphia PA 19104). The seminar features Philadelphia's celebrated scientist and academic executive, Temple University's new Dean of College of Science and Technology, Dr. Hai-Lung Dai as the keynote speaker, and a panel of 4 industry executives from the area's major corporations.

This is the third workshop of an annual career planning series. In each year's seminar, we invite leaders from the industry and academia to give their insights and guidance on how we can better prepare for the workplace and to live fulfilling careers. Life in the academia and the pharmaceutical industry is this year's emphasis.

Keynote speaker: Dr. Dai Hai-Lung
Professor and Dean of College of Science and Technology, Temple University
主题演讲人: 戴海龙教授, Temple 大学科学技术学院院长

Speakers:

Yao, Bing PhD Director, Immunobiology, Centocor, J&J

Shen, Joan MD, PhD Director, CNS, Clinical Research and Development, Wyeth Research.

Pan, Julie PhD, MBA Associate Marketing Director, Oncology Franchise Business Group, Merck & Co, Inc

Peng, Wei JD Patent advisor, GlaxoSmithKline pharmaceuticals

The seminar series is open to the public and is jointly organized by Sino-American Pharmaceutical Professional Association, with Peking University Philadelphia Alumni Penn Office providing the funding, facility, and support services. It is a great opportunity for Chinese students, postdocs, and young working professionals and scholars in the greater Philadelphia area to network and learn from veteran leaders from the academia and the industry, and to be prepared for a successful career.
